With the Epic November 2021 update, Inter-System's Caché database will no longer be supported. All Epic organizations will need to upgrade their operational database to Inter-System's IRIS. While this is a relatively short project (typically around 12 weeks) there are many dependencies, requirements across various technical and operational teams, and technical complexities.

Sapphire has successfully lead many organizations through the conversion, and has an expeditious and cost effective fixed-price solution. Let Sapphire's experienced team of Epic technical resources handle the IRIS upgrade, minimizing the impact to your technical teams and end users, and ensuring a successful deployment.
